

Update: Atlas Road Roundabout utility works

January 2023 | www.hs2.org.uk

High Speed Two (HS2) is the new high speed railway for Britain.

Utility works on the Atlas Road Roundabout

Throughout 2021/22/23, HS2 contractor CSJV have been carrying out works at the Atlas Road roundabout to provide protection to utility assets prior to the construction of the Atlas Road Logistics Tunnel (ARLT).

We wrote to you on 1 August 2022 about the works on the Atlas Road roundabout being transferred over to SCSJV from CSJV in summer 2022, and again on 18 November 2022 to inform you about an extension due to unforeseen circumstances.

The utilities team have been working hard to complete these works, but they are now due to be completed by the end of February 2023. Unfortunately, in the last week, there has been additional delays to the works due to a Thames Water watermain leak separate to our works but in the same area. This has resulted in our teams needing to step down until this is rectified.

What to expect

Until the end of February 2023, temporary traffic management will be in place during various phases on the Atlas Road roundabout and adjacent roads. These works will include commissioning and abandonment works for the water and gas assets below ground as well as relining the current sewer structure. Excavation works will be required but are not expected to be as significant as the previous works. You can view more information about the location of these works on the following pages.
