Additional information

We wrote to you in April about this trial hole to protect utility services before tunnelling underneath Kildun Court, to connect to the Old Oak Common station site. We were due to complete this trial hole on 15 May but we've faced delays and will now complete the work on Friday 22 May. This work will be carried out during weekdays only.

We will continue with installing supports inside the building and protecting windows and the roof. There will be a traffic marshal to support deliveries to Kildun Court. Monitoring and maintenance works will be carried out in Kildun Court ongoing until December 2026. Residents will need to continue to use the pedestrian access across the road on Old Oak Common Lane due to the BBVS utility diversion works at this location, which are expected to continue to autumn 2026.
