Central Line excavations

We are continuing with our work to support the construction of railway bridges on land near the Central Line (around 90 metres south from the rear of properties on Wells House Road).

We are working on a sensitive area around an existing wall on the west side of the Central Line bridge. Excavations here require a vacuum excavator, which produces a more continuous noise than a regular excavator and lower vibration. This will be used over a one-metre strip alongside wider excavations in the area. The vacuum excavation method is less likely to cause damage to the wall. We will work in night shifts while the Central Line is closed, in case of debris falling on the tracks.

We will be working three- or four-night shifts from Tuesday 7 April – Thursday 9 April.

We do not anticipate there to be significant overnight disruption and due to the methods described above, we do not anticipate residents to be disturbed significantly. However, there will be an option to seek temporary alternative accommodation for residents if this is the case. Please contact community@bbvsjv.com or the HS2 Helpdesk.
