Narrowing works to the eastern section of the old road to make it suitable for its intended future use. The A41 was realigned in 2024.

Where we will be working

We are narrowing the section of Aylesbury Road between the new Cranwell Farm turning and the junction with Blackgrove Road. The map below shows the area affected by the lane closures. The section highlighted in blue will be under a single lane closure with designated passing places for residents' access through the works.

Where we will be working continued

In mid-December we will be closing the road for several nights over the course of a week. Residents' access will be maintained throughout except for 1 night when only emergency access will be possible. The exact times and dates for these closures are not yet confirmed. This notice will be updated accordingly when confirmed.
