What we are doing

Re-opening Tilehouse Lane, near West Hyde, Hertfordshire to road users, and partially reopening public rights of way Ricks 004, DEN3/1 and new bridleways. The road and public rights of way have been closed for several years to enable the realignment of the road and the construction of a new bridge over the HS2 railway cutting.

What to expect

Tilehouse Lane remains a single track lane with passing places and connections to the bridleway and public rights of way in the area. Vehicles from the local quarry will continue to use Tilehouse Lane and we advise all road users and pedestrians to use caution and care when using the reinstated public highway. For full details please see overleaf.

New road layout on Tilehouse Lane, Hertfordshire

The alignment of Tilehouse Lane has permanently changed to accommodate the new railway cutting, bridleway, and new bridge over the high-speed railway. Tilehouse Lane remains a narrow single-track road with limited passing space and shares a junction with an operational quarry. Road users are advised to take extra care when travelling through the area, especially for the first time, and to pay attention to traffic signs and directions.

Additional planting and reseeding works along Tilehouse Lane

Hedgerow planting and reseeding along the verges of Tilehouse Lane will continue in November and December 2026. Traffic management may be employed during the daytime to manage these works for the safety of road users and operatives. Please allow extra time for your journey and take care when using Tilehouse Lane as these works are progressed.
